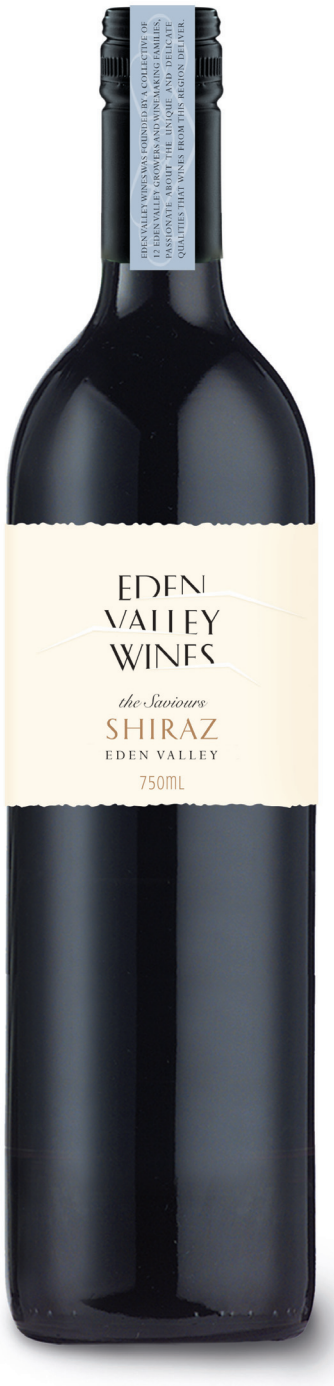
SHIRAZ

2004

This rare blend of the best Shiraz produced by Eden Valley Wines members is a fine example of the elegance and finesse to be found in great Eden Valley Shiraz.

A selection of 2004 Shiraz wines made by members individually was presented to our winemakers for their assessment. They were looking for long, lingering wines, with peppery touches and a little new oak over the fruit. Varying quantities were selected from the offerings and the resulting blend was returned to oak for another 12 months.


This Eden Valley Shiraz reflects the low yields and warm season of the 2004 vintage. Typically, the region's 2004 reds have dense colour, ripe black berry fruits, lots of spice and sweet fruit, and mature tannins on the palate. They have significant ageing potential.
